

CONSTITUTION
of the
REPUBLIC of INNOVANIA

The Government of the Republic of Innovania hereby decrees the establishment of an independent Nation henceforth known as INNOVANIA or more properly, the Republic of Innovania.

This document outlines our basic structure and guiding principles.

Article I – Government

All power is vested in the Office of the President, who is a non-elected Head of State with no succession rights unless specified by the President.

Article II – Citizenry

All people are invited to become citizens including those who have never lived in Innovania, those who aspire to reside in the country, and those who have no intention of living in Innovania.

The Republic of Innovania particularly welcomes creative, innovative and forward-thinking citizens as we believe that these qualities are desirable for society and essential to human progress. Citizens are granted citizenship by the Head of State and such status is revocable upon certain offenses, including Treason, Act of War, Sabotage, or Dis-Allegiance, violation of other citizens human rights (as specified in Article III), or other grounds as may be specified by the President.

Article III – Human Rights

Innovania does not condone, permit, or promote any type of discrimination. For example: Race, Sex, Age, Ethnicity, Disability, Religion, or Sexual Preference.

Article IV – Foreign Relations

The Republic of Innovania endeavors to have peaceful, respectful, and productive relations with all nations large or small.

Article V –

Amendments to this Constitution are solely within the prerogative of the President.

Adopted: December 7, 2012